Art Unit: 2614

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-3, 5-12, 14-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(E) as being anticipated by Parker, U.S. Patent Publication #2005/0131748.

Parker discloses call centers (160, 130, 140 in Fig.1); a softswitch (110 - ¶¶-0021 & 0022; a force management system (100, Fig. 1) that is in communication with the softswitch. Call center 160 is shown in Fig. 1 as being located at a remote location from softswitch (110) and being connected over the Internet to softswitch, ¶-0022.

Concerning claims 7 & 8, Parker discloses that one of her work statistics is wait time in ¶-0061

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4, 13, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Parker in view of Forbes, U.S. Patent #6,996,076.

Forbes discloses in Fig. 4 a call center (122) in communication with a Virtual Private Network (VPN-128), col. 7, lines 60-65. To have provided Forbes teaching of using a

VPN in Parker's call center would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the call center art, because with these two references in front of the skilled practitioner (s)he would find the teachings one easily combinable into the other since both disclose call centers.
